HIS END was inevitable in battle with 200 police.

HOWARD ELLIS, "blowing his top" after wounding his wife, staged a two-hour spectacular gun battle with 200 police armed with every possible modern small-arms weapon. He wounded 8 before daring officers entered his barricaded home and killed him (photo by Ervin).

"We Could Have Averted Slaying," 3 Brothers Say

A 64-year-old man who shot his wife after an argument, staged one of the city's most dramatic and spectacular battles with police, wounding eight, before a volley of bullets killed him Wednesday afternoon.

More than 200 city and state police were held at bay for two and one-half hours by Howard Ellis, former mental patient, while barricaded in his eight-room home at 733 N. Elder avenue.

Tells Story Of Man's Crack-up

By JIM CUMMINGS

Miss Mattie Shockley, 21-year-old roomer at the Elder avenue home from which Howard Ellis waged his unbelievable war against 200 police, witnessed the incidents that led to his crazed firing on officers and subsequent death.

In an exclusive interview with The Recorder, Miss Shockley said she thing had been brewing over a long period of time.

She said there was a constant rift between Mr. Ellis and his wife, Janie, and that the elderly man argued with his mate all the time. Usually, she said, the arguments stemmed from Ellis' treatment of the five welfare children the Ellises kept at their home.

Wednesday morning when the incident started there were 13 children in the house, according to Miss Shockley.

She said her baby was there, the welfare children, five children of a neighbor left in Mrs. Ellis' care.

POLICE, battling a madman-crack shot, wisely took cover as indicated above. Thousands clogged a three-block area, watching as police and firemen deployed their forces in battle with Howard Ellis, slain after a 2-hour struggle (photos by Ervin).

"Most Wanted" Burglar Leads Two Pals Into Police Net

CHARLES W. MAYS

Criminal court capias charging automobile banditry were served Wednesday on one of the city's "most wanted" burglars and two of his junior partners, caught Sunday in a daring daylight attempt to loot the Cloverleaf Creameries, 1417 N. Harding.

Charles Willie Mays, 33, rated by detectives as one of the best safe-men in town, was the prize catch. He gave his address as 135 McLean place.

Maurice Anderson, 26, 2211 N. Rural, and Eugene Hill Freeman, 33, 363 W. 15th, were arrested with Mays as they attempted to leave the creamery after allegedly getting a safe as far as the back door.

Anderson, a twice-convicted mail thief who also served time for forgery, was described by detectives as a man who will do anything for a fast buck.

The arrest of Mays and his buddies was a compliment to the detective department which is headed by Inspector Noel Jones.

MAYS, ARRESTED 35 times during a 15-year career of crime which started Dec. 1, 1939, when he was convicted of petit larceny and given 30 days and a low fine, was a leading suspect in every major burglary committed here in the past three years.

He was arrested 15 times on burglary charges. He got 2-to-5 years for second degree burglary in 1942, and was given a year and fined $200 and costs on a third degree burglary conviction in 1948.

Charged with robbery on three separate occasions, Mays went up for two years in 1949 and his record shows a five-year sentence was suspended.

Mays and a partner who police say was the brains behind him during his lucrative crime foray but who was not caught Sunday, are credited with taking "thousands upon thousands of dollars" from the Hoosier capital and the southern part of the state.

MAURICE ANDERSON

EUGENE H. FREEMAN

INSPECTOR JONES and Lieut. Arthur Ratz, head of the burglary detail, recognizing the brilliance and thoroughness with which the team worked and never slipped up, mapped an elaborate plan to snare the men.

First they had all detective cars painted conventional colors and took off the long radio aerials.

Det. Sgts. Jim Rogers and Robert Butler were given the special assignment to "tail" the team and keep headquarters informed of their every move.

Later when it was found two men could not accomplish the job, Officers John T. Glenn, Anthony Watkins and Samuel Gibbs were assigned and the burglary gang was kept under almost constant surveillance.

Every officer on the force knew Mays and his partner by sight, and knew their late model cars and license numbers.

"Still they slipped through our lines," Inspector Jones told the Recorder in an exclusive interview. "We saw our mistakes and corrected them every time. We know every job they committed during our active watch over them, but never got enough to take them to court."

"We made things tough for them though. They came down from eating ham to eating pig feet. The finance companies pulled their cars in an put them on the pavement. They were desperate for money."

OFFICERS HAD BEEN trailing Mays for several hours before he and his two pals entered the creamery, which is across the street from Victory Field where 3,000 fans were cheering the Indianapolis Indians.

Inspector Jones, Lieutenant Ratz, Sergeant Glenn and Sgt. Michael Garvey saw the men enter the place and waited for them to come out, expecting them to load the safe in Freeman's car which was used on the job.

A company driver foiled the plan when he went to the front door and shook it. Mays and his buddies fled and got into Freeman's car in a getaway attempt, only to be surrounded before they could start the motor.

An inspection revealed that the office door had been jimmied and the safe had been knocked from its moorings and hauled to a rear door on a handcar.

Mays faces the possibility of a life sentence on a habitual criminal charge detectives are preparing to place against him.

A conviction on the auto banditry charges will net the men 10-to-25 year sentences. All are being held under $7,500 bonds.

Mays is believed to have taken part in a burglary of the L. S. Ayres warehouse shortly before Christmas in which $6,000 was taken. Two Omar Baking Company jobs reportedly netted him and his gang $15,000 last November. A $10,000 Rose Time Company burglary is credited to him, along with numerous other burglaries.

rounds of ammunition into the Ellis home during the exchange of shots.

THE FRIGHTFUL TRAGEDY began about 10 a.m., the story gathered by police indicates, when Mrs. Ellis ran from her home to that of a neighbor, Mrs. Mary Rapier, 702 N. Elder, and called the Central State Hospital for the insane saying she had been attacked with a knife by her husband.

She called police as directed by hospital attaches and started to return to her home in which she cared for five children, wards of the Marion County Welfare Department.

Mrs. Ellis said as she crossed the lot adjacent to the Ellis home, her husband appeared at the doorway of a large barn in the rear of which he housed chickens and turkeys. He raised his shotgun and fired.

About that time Patrolmen Chris Greenwood and Robert Yates, responding to her request for police protection, arrived. Friends and relatives of Ellis vouched for the fact he was a crack shot, with a record of being particularly good in groundhog hunting, his favorite sport.

A NATIVE OF Jackson, Miss., Ellis came here about 1919 after serving 18 months in World War I. He was employed by the old Merchants Light Company as a laborer from 1919 to 1932 with its successor the Indianapolis Power and Light Company from 1936 to 1939 and from 1942 until July 1, 1952, when he was retired because of illness.

He was termed a good worker by both employers.

He was committed to the Central State Hospital in 1950 for a short period, released and re-committed until January, 1953. Then he was given a convalescent leave that permitted him to remain at home with periodic examinations.

Hospital records disclose the latest report on his condition, made by his wife early this month (June 5), indicated his improvement was such that authorities were considering giving him a complete discharge.

The Jacobs Brothers Westside Funeral Home will conduct funeral services, with the date to be set by Mrs. Ellis upon her release from the hospital.

Mrs. Ellis was married to Ellis in 1938 and shortly thereafter they purchased the Elder avenue home. Neighbors said it was well kept and equipped with modern appliances.

Surviving besides the widow are three brothers, Brown, Frank and Amos Ellis, all of Indianapolis, and two sisters, Mrs. Susie Roberts, Indianapolis, and Mrs. Lou McGinnis, Jackson, Miss.

of police completely surrounding the house, were astounded that any human being could withstand the many rounds of tear gas and escape the steady stream of bullets poured into every side of the building.

Finally, about 1:45, it was a squad of brave officers led by Inspector Russell Carmichael who entered the front door, wearing gas masks.

Ellis, still full of fight, fired at the officers as they blasted away, hitting the hell-bent killer. A total of 26 bullets were found in his body later at the morgue.

At one time before the end, Inspector Carmichael was alone in the house with the madman while his companions went for more ammunition.

Mrs. Ellis, while being treated at the hospital said she was unaware her husband had any ammunition for the guns he used in hunting.

Friends and relatives of Ellis vouched for the fact he was a crack shot, with a record of being particularly good in groundhog hunting, his favorite sport.

care, and two children belonging to Miss Shockley's brother and sister-in-law, Joe Robert and Earlene Shockley, who occupied a rear apartment at the house.

E. R. NELSON, another roomer who was making repairs on the Ellis house, had sent Jimmy Reed, one of the welfare children, to the grocery to get him some cigars, according to Miss Shockley.

When the boy returned Ellis whipped him for going on the errand before he had ground some corn as Ellis had ordered.

"Mrs. Ellis came out and asked what happened," Miss Shockley said.

"Mr. Ellis told her to get back in the house and grabbed her arm and slung her on the bed after getting her in the house."

"She grabbed a bottle and swung it at him but he took it and began choking her."

"Mrs. Ellis got away and ran out the front door and south on Elder."

The frightened woman, who had had her husband committed to Central Hospital once, went to 702 N. Elder, the home of a neighbor, Mrs. Mary Rapier, and called the hospital, requesting they send someone to pick up her mate. She was referred to police headquarters.

Patrolmen John Yates and Christopher Greenwood were dispatched to the Ellis home.

MISS SHOCKLEY SAID that while Mrs. Ellis was gone for aid Ellis threatened to "get" the children.

"I got my baby and the other children and went outside. The neighbor's children left."

"When the police stopped in front, Mr. Ellis looked in that direction and said to me, 'She called police on me twice. I'm not going anywhere unless I take her with me.'"

"He walked to the chicken coop where he got a shotgun. The two officers came around to the rear of the house and were talking to Mr. Nelson."

"I saw Mr. Ellis get the gun and put a dress over it and I pulled one policeman by the arm and told him Mr. Ellis had the gun."

"It looked as if he was going to shoot the policemen, but they turned around toward him and he took off running."

"Mrs. Ellis must have seen the police car and was coming back home. Mr. Ellis met her."

"I heard two shotgun blasts and a woman's scream and I and the children ran to the home of a neighbor."

Miss Shockley said she didn't know how Ellis got back into the house.

Beckwith Divorced

Mrs. Mahala Ashley Dickerson Beckwith was granted a divorce from her husband of several years, Frank R. Beckwith, prominent attorney, by Judge Lloyd D. Claycomb in Circuit Court Thursday afternoon.

By terms of the settlement, reached out of court, she will receive title to the property at 1628 Carrollton avenue, including household furnishings, restoration of her maiden name, Dickerson, and title to two lots in Idlewild, Mich., owned by Beckwith.

Wilbur H. Grant Wins High Honor At GOP Meet

WILBUR H. GRANT

Another "first" was written into the history of the Indiana GOP state convention in the Coliseum at the State Fairgrounds Friday, last week.

Wilbur Grant, prominent attorney, deputy Marion County prosecutor and former member of the legislature, became the first Negro in either major party to serve as secretary of a state convention.

It was his privilege to place in nomination all six of the unopposed candidates in the brief, and unprecedentedly smooth functioning convention, gathered to select the GOP standard bearers in the fall election.

MR. GRANT, rated one of the ablest political strategists in the Mid-West, has served several times as a deputy Marion County prosecutor, three terms as Marion Coun-

Wrong Left Turn Leads To "Term"

A man caught driving with a suspended driver's license recently was fined and jailed Monday morning by Judge Patrick J. Barton, Municipal Court 3.

Waverly McClain, 32, 619 W. St. Clair, arrested June 23 when officers spotted him making a prohibited left turn from St. Clair into Alabama street, received a total of $55.50 in fines and 120 days on the state farm.

McClain was charged with driving without a license when police learned his license had been suspended January 31 for a year when he was convicted of drunken driving. He was also charged with making the illegal turn.

Ask McCarthy's Help In Allison JC Fight

The Yankee Doodle Civic Foundation, having lost its "fair play" suit against the Allison Division of General Motors, has appealed to Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy for assistance.

The suit filed in Federal Court several months ago seeking to compel Allison's to hire Negroes in line with the President's order governing contracts for defense work, was dismissed by Judge William E. Steckler on Friday of last week.

Attorneys for the giant corporation were sustained in their contention that the executive order against racial discrimination in employment is not binding upon firms filling defense needs and has no force at law.

The foundation had brought suit in the name of a local man, charging Allison's with refusing to hire Negroes in any but menial capacities and refusing to upgrade them when qualified.

The firm, which employs 15,000 workers, denied it practices racial discrimination against Negroes. Turning to the much-publicized Wisconsin Senator, the foundation ty State Representative, and advisor to top Republican leaders on the local, state and national levels.

While in the Indiana General Assembly, he was rated by an impartial group of newspapermen who covered the sessions in their entirety, as one of the five most able and efficient of the 100 members of the lower house.

He has sponsored and authored and assisted in the passage of many bills beneficial to members of his race and other minority groups.

"The situation which we undertake here to remedy is designed to eliminate second class citizenship in the vital matter of employment and to enable all citizens to take and occupy creditably a proper place in American life."

The petition asked Senator McCarthy to conduct an on-the-spot inquiry here in Indianapolis.

Loses Four Fingers In Home Repairs

An Eastside man making repairs on his house lost four fingers Saturday in an accident.

Henry Cork, 33, 3142 N. Gale, had four fingers on his right hand cut off when he caught the hand in an electric saw.

Rushed to General hospital in an ambulance, Cork was reported in "fairly good condition" there Tuesday and was expected to be released before the weekend.

Urban League, College Fund To Sponsor Radio Series

WASHINGTON (ANP)—A series of six broadcasts from Washington, D. C., will be presented on NBC radio under the title, "Howard University Musical," on Sundays, starting July 4, 11 to 11:30 a. m., CDT.

The program will be offered in behalf of two organizations working in the fields of education and economic opportunity—the United Negro College fund and the National Urban League.

Howard university's choir will broadcast from the university's campus.

In addition, each week the brilliant young concert artist, Natalie Hinderas, recently heard in concert over NBC's western radio network, will be heard in solo selections. Each organization's work will be explained briefly by a representative.

The program is presented by NBC in cooperation with the university and the organizations.

Encouraged by the enthusiastic response given the two vacation resort developments at King's Lake and Monterey, the developers have opened another division at nearby Hartz Lake. The Recorder learned this week.

Located only 95 miles from Indianapolis, the Hartz Lake, like its companion developments, is a perfect ideal spot for rest, relaxation and vacation so much needed by the modern city dweller.

Hartz Lake, offering a rare choice of lot locations, is situated on an important highway, only 95 miles from Indianapolis and in the heart of beautiful Indiana.

THE PROMOTERS, aware of the almost irresistible urge of many families to take to the country on holidays, have arranged to have representatives on the spot all day Sunday, July 4.

In addition, sandwiches and cold drinks will be served every visitor or FREE.

Blessed with a wonderful climate, the Hartz Lake region is a dream spot for fishing, boating, swimming and outdoor sports, having two spring-fed lakes and bordering the Tippecanoe River.

For fullest information for those unable to visit the spot July 4, write the Hartz Lake Division, Monterey Resort Properties, 1325 E. 53rd Street, Chicago 15, Ill.

Hartz Lake can be reached from Indianapolis by following Highway 29 to Logansport, No. 17 north to 110, turning left at 110 direct to the property.

There is no finer investment that can be made in resort property, the developers guarantee.

Red Cross Urges Summer Safety

With an eye on July 4th and summer holidays, the local Red Cross urges everyone to be safety conscious so that accidents don't just happen.

A few common-sense precautions can prevent a lot of common accidents," according to Arch DeMars, Chairman of the Indianapolis Chapter's First Aid Committee.

"For instance, you should be prepared to care for sunburns, sunstroke, boating and swimming mishaps; and be ready for strains, sprains, broken bones, insect or snake bites. At all times drive carefully but especially on holiday-crowded highways. Always keep first aid supplies at hand. Wherever you are, don't eat or drink too much and, above all, don't over-exercise."

If an accident does happen, don't panic but give immediate care to the victim. Keep the following rules in mind:

- (1) Don't move an injured person.
- (2) First, look for bleeding and try to stem the flow by applying pressure directly on the wound.
- (3) If breathing has stopped, give artificial respiration at once.
- (4) Help stall off shock by keeping the victim warm, comfortable.
- (5) Send for a doctor and keep onlookers away.
- (6) Don't give liquids to unconscious persons.

At all times be prepared. Sign up for a free First Aid course by calling Red Cross at Lincoln 1441.

WORKMAN KILLED

Albert Williams, 2410 Indianapolis avenue, was killed Thursday morning when a 3,000-pound bucket slipped from a crane hook and fell on him, crushing him, at the International Harvester plant where he worked.

The 44-year-old foundry worker was working alone at the time of the accident in the foundry room at 5555 Brookville road.

He was preparing to load the bucket with wood and coke to charge up the furnace for the day shift. He had hooked the bucket to an electrically operated crane and hoisted it from its dolly.

The bucket slipped from a height of about 11 feet and fell on Williams' right shoulder as the man stopped to push the dolly clear. It crushed him face down on the rails of the dolly track on which the crane travels.

Lee Brims, 2515 Paris avenue, and Harvey Lensey, 46 1314 Burdett parkway, found the body.

Women Sponsors Launch Summer-Fall Program At Saturday Tea

Social Scene

By RICHARD C. HENDERSON

Approximately forty Recorder Women Sponsors, board representatives and staff members enjoyed the coolness of the downstairs recreation room of the home of their director, Mrs. Paul A. Batties, at a tea party where plans were presented for the immediate launching of the annual summer-fall solicitation of funds for Recorder Charities, Inc.

As you know, the funds solicited are used to supply the needs of the city's most indigent families, primarily at Christmas time. Thus the funds have often been called the Recorder Christmas Cheer Fund.

The business meeting was preceded by a social hour, during which the guests were favored by vocal selections by Norris Ferguson, young TV artist who was accompanied by his brother, Lysandal Ferguson.

Mrs. Wilson Lennear, auditor, read the financial statement of income and expenditures following the reading of the minutes, and Mrs. Daugherty Moore, dean of girls at Attucks high school, reported the results of the scholarships given by the Women Sponsors from special funds raised from the Easter parade.

By the way, allow me to take time here to explain one thing. ALL money raised through public contribution is used for charity purposes ONLY. Any time you hear of the women doing something special, you can rest assured the money for it has been especially raised.

Mrs. Moore announced that Miss Lula Emile had received the $500 scholarship given in memory of the late Mrs. Curtis Terry and the late Mrs. Floyd Covington, former Women Sponsors, and that Lula plans to enter Indiana University in the fall.

Marcus C. Stewart, editor of The Recorder, was principal speaker, and remarks were also made by the Recorder Charities executive secretary Frank R. Beckwith, and the president, Dr. Guy L. Grant.

The new chairman, Mrs. Joseph Butler, was presented, then Mrs. Elsie Garrett sang a medley of vocal selections.

Mrs. Batties discussed campaign procedure and welcomed several new sponsors into the organization, including Mesdames Edith Fields, Albert Ferguson, Richard Tanner and Griffith Rodgers.

Women Sponsors, in addition to those listed over there under the pictures, are Mesdames Mayme Fatties Ernest Battles, William Eell, James Blake, Ralph Rowe, Eva Clanton, George Dixon, William Elliott, Orville Grant, Thomas Grubbs, J. Wallace Hall, Howard R. Hooper, Ben W. Johnson, Richard Lewis and Oscar Morris.

Also Mesdames John Murray, Roy Pope, Clarence Stewart, Fannie C. Stewart, Marshall A. Talley, J. W. Taylor, Ralph Wood and Joyce S. Thompson and the Misses Pansy Clay, Novella Dickens, Velois Duncan, Marie Ford, Mignon Jordan and Lillian Naomi Wortham.

And one word more—Louise has gathered, as Women Sponsors, a group of women who seem peculiarly equipped to work well with each other. This job of mine constantly tosses me into various groups, clubs, organizations, etc., and with one possible exception (a Bible class), I cannot think of any group which has a better spirit of "one-ness."

Giving them close competition, however, is a rather unique group, the Annual June Birthday club, which had a very nice dinner party last Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Brent. Beautiful gifts were exchanged.

As the name implies, the members all have birthdays in June. They are Rev. and Mrs. G. L. Robinson and Messrs. and Mesdames Gilbert Langford and Ira Thomas, in addition to the Brenns.

Another nice affair last Saturday was a luncheon given in honor of Mrs. Perry Hopkins, who received her master's degree in education this June at Butler University. Hostesses for the affair, given at the new home of Mr. and Mrs. James Good, were Mesdames Edith Heater, Beulah Wallace, Lenora Anderson, Charlotte Marius, Florence Good and Marian Smith, sister of Mrs. Hopkins.

Among guests were Mrs. Mary Heater, mother of Mrs. Hopkins, and Mesdames Edna Davis, Nellie Flowers, Emma Adams and Ziporah Thompson of Brookhaven. Miss Mrs. Thompson is educational director of Alexander high school at Brookhaven. An aunt of the honoree, Mrs. Addie Snead, was unable to be present.

Seated at a table beautifully decorated with spring flowers, the women enjoyed a menu of chicken salad, hot rolls, fresh strawberry preserves iced tea and fresh green apple pie topped with vanilla ice cream.

Much socializing, especially in the way of smaller house parties, came in connection with the sixth annual Memorial Golf Tournament at Douglass Park over the weekend.

Highlighting the entertainment was a party Saturday night at the Amalgamated Hall, attended by about 200 guests. Prentice Bledsoe was chairman for the affair, called the "Nineteenth Hole," assisted by Mrs. Mildred Herod. Light refreshments and drinks were served.

Dr. and Mrs. R. K. Simpkins and daughters, the Misses Carole and Shirley Doneghy, of Shreveport, La., were guests of Miss Wilhelmina Stephens on Monday. Carole is a June graduate of Indiana University.

Dr. and Mrs. Fitzalbert Marius and son, Gary, of New York City, were overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Thompson on Wednesday night of last week. Dr. Marius is a June graduate of the Howard University School of Medicine. They were motoring to Fresno, Calif., where he will intern at Fresno General Hospital.

Strictly in the way of chatter—these of you who haven't seen the Wallace Hall's new Cadillac should casually stop by to take a look. Albertine is justifiably in

Chatting with the FAC

By ELSA JACKSON

With their very beautiful annual garden party last Sunday, the FAC Young Adults have marked off another success. The affair was well-attended, in spite of the heat. And on Monday night the Young Adults enjoyed an impromptu party at the home of their sponsor, Mrs. Thelma Herrington.

The board of directors and trustees met Monday night and made several timely recommendations to be presented at the next regular FAC meeting.

The Twelve-Mo club motor caravan journeyed to Oaklandon for the club's annual picnic last Sunday, with wives and children as guests. Games, fishing, southern-style barbecue and plenty of beverages were enjoyed, and scores of pictures were taken, as everyone had a camera. Meetings of the club will be resumed in September.

Mrs. Jessie Cunningham is much improved, and is deeply appreciative to the host of friends and FAC members who showered her with cards and other expressions of concern during her grave illness.

The Smilax club will meet Friday at the home of Mrs. Georgia Knox, with Mrs. Estella Mosely as hostess and observe the birthday of Mrs. Ann Merritt. Mrs. Mary Lindsey, president of the group, recently returned from San Antonio, where she attended the National Baptist Sunday School Congress.

"Guest Night" last Friday at the home of the president, Mrs. Vera Bradley, Mrs. I. Albert Moore was guest speaker. Mesdames Teresa Sanders and Margaret Squires were hostesses.

The Golden Circle Girls will hold their last meeting of the season at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Clemmons on Wednesday, July 14. Most of the members attended the OES Grand Chapter meeting in Gary last week. Three members, Mesdames Willa Owsley, Clo Woolridge and Fannie Hyde, were grand officers. Mesdames Mattie Lee Smith and Helen Ann Perkins, matron and associate matron of Pride of the West Chapter No. 45, were delegates, and several other members attended.

Ernest Lindsey will spend the holiday weekend in Detroit with his daughter, Mrs. Virginia Pryor, who will return with him for a two-week vacation here.

Service Men To Hold Dance Sunday Night

Service men who happen to be in the city Sunday night can enjoy what promises to be a GI dance which is really different.

Cadettes of Regiment V of the Indianapolis Service Men's Center, under the direction of Mrs. Corean Hawkins, regiment colonel, will sponsor a dance at the center starting at 8 Sunday night and using "A Night on Broadway" as theme.

Each cadette will come dressed as a song, with prizes being awarded for the three most unique costumes. Door prizes will also be awarded.

Jon Lei, internationally known dance artist, and a group of his dancers will give a performance. Miss Jane Craig is chairman of the cadette committee, which also includes the Misses Emogene Garrett, Jeffe Rodgers, Jessie Gray, Verna Poindexter, Marguerite Graves, Bessie Coulter, Janice Newton, Donna Isom, Mary Dulin, Sidnetta Garrett and Ella Poindexter.

YMCA Young Adults To Go To Cleveland

Members of the Graduate sorority and Phalanx fraternity at the Senate Avenue YMCA will go to Cleveland for two days of fellowship with the sorority and fraternity chapters there, July 10-11. Groups will also be present from Columbus, Ohio.

Teachers' Workshop To Highlight National Poro Convention In City

A "Teachers' Workshop" set for Saturday, July 10, will be a highlight of the activities in connection with the opening of the National Poro Convention here on July 11.

Mrs. Ethelyne Alexander, wife of the late Dr. Paul Alexander of Columbus, O., will be one of the principal participants. A beauty culture teacher for many years, she was principal at the Poro School of Cosmetology at Columbus before becoming inspector of cosmetology for Ohio.

Considered one of the most outstanding women in the field today, Mrs. Alexander will discuss "Better Public Relations Between Beauty Schools, Organizations and Beauty Boards."

Mrs. Mary I. Gibson, author of the widely used manual "Personality and Shop Department," will lecture on "Counseling Students for Careers." Mrs. Gibson is a teacher of beauty culture in the local school system.

Mrs. Blondeva Wharton, Pittsburg, will conduct a model theory class as principal instructor of the model school.

"Visual Education in Beauty Schools" will be conducted by Mrs. Ella R. Martin, dean of the Poro school at Atlanta and president of the Georgia State Beauty Culturists League, Inc. She will supervise the photography in modern hair styling.

Also participating in the program will be Mrs. Priscilla Dean Lewis, owner and manager of the Lewis Hair Styling Academy in this city.

The workshop will be held in the auditorium of the Poro Beauty

June Proves Itself Still "The" Month Of Weddings, Engagements

FORMER LOCAL GIRL IS BRIDE: Miss Joellen Johnson, former resident of Indianapolis, became the bride of Lawrence Bernard Hicks recently in a church ceremony which was a recent highlight of the Los Angeles social season. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Johnson and lived at 435 North California street here before moving to Los Angeles.

Joellen Johnson, Former Resident, Becomes Bride In Los Angeles Rites

LOS ANGELES—Miss Joellen Johnson, former resident of Indianapolis and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Johnson, became the bride of Lawrence Bernard Hicks, son of Mrs. Stella T. Hicks of a pioneer local family, in a socially prominent wedding in First AMEZ Church recently, witnessed by approximately a thousand relatives and friends.

The couple pledged their vows beneath a heart of gardenias which centered a decorated arch, entwined and encircled with garlands. The church was transformed by the artistic floral arrangements of white gladioli, tulips, mums and gardenias.

Rev. S. H. Marion, pastor of the church, officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Entering on the arm of her father, the bride chose a gown of imported Chantilly lace over pleated tulle, with portrait neckline, long tapered sleeves and a cathedral train edged in lace scallops. A reed pearl tiara held her fingertip illusion veil in place.

She carried a heart-shaped bouquet of white orchids and rosebuds.

Mrs. Eobbe Jean Scott was matron of honor, and Miss Mary Ann Buford was maid of honor. They wore gowns of pink taffeta and imported net with bolero jackets and bouffant tiered skirts and carried heart-shaped bouquets of pale and dark pink roses.

Serving as bridesmaids were the Misses Esmerline Knighton, Barbara Bradley, Geraldine Harvey, Bernice Garner, Johnnie Mae Collins, Jeane Hill, Lucille Gossett and Ioni Ross.

They were attired in gowns of yellow and blue, cut in the same pattern as those of the other attendants. Those wearing blue gowns carried heart-shaped bouquets of yellow roses, while heart-shaped bouquets of talisman roses were carried by those in yellow gowns.

Jackie Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Taylor, was flower girl, wearing a long gown of pale pink taffeta and net carrying the flower petals in a basket made of white satin ribbon.

Master Christopher Harpole, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Harpole, was ring-bearer. He wore full dress, as did all the male attendants. Ushers were Lexie Mitchell, Duncan Osborne, L. K. Phillips, Henry Fink, Douglas Stone, Henry Linton, LeSene Hilton, Samuel Jones and Jack Allen. Doccimen were William, Andrew and Ernest Reed.

Proceeding the ceremony the organ prelude was played by Mrs. Eunice Blackwell, with Mrs. Daisy Goodlow at the piano. Bridal airs were sung by Miss Mary Natricka and Cleveland Duncan.

The reception followed the ceremony. The bride's mother received in an Emma Domb creation. The powder blue, ankle-length gown was of imported silk over nylon net, trimmed in Chantilly lace. She wore contrasting accessories.

The groom's mother wore a gown of rose lace with matching accessories. Both mothers wore orchid corsages. In addition to the couple and their parents, the receiving line included Mrs. Thelma Gil-ohm and the bride's attendants.

The four-tiered wedding cake was heart-shaped and was served by Mrs. Emma Kinard. The lace-covered table was adorned with silver candelsticks and mystery gardenias encircled the cake.

Hostesses and others assisting with the reception were Mesdames Daisy Goodlow, Manie Lowe, Blanche Brooks, Omega Phillips, Verdie Hall, Ollie Hamilton and Sedalia Mitchell and the Misses Juanita Goodlow, Margaret Buford, Wanda Stone and Moniana Stone.

ETHEL HAILSTORK HONORS HUSBAND

Mrs. Ethel Hailstork feted her husband, Oliver W., with a birthday party last Saturday night in the prize-winning yard of their home, 546 Udell street. Barbecued meats and fowls were enjoyed along with other refreshments.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Spates and daughter, Peggy, Des Moines; Miss Jean Brooks, Nashville; Messrs. and Mesdames Raymond Nelson, Carl Ray and Mesdames Hattie Merritt, Jessie D. Thomas, Carrie May Clendenning and Naomi Little, Louisville, and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hill and Miss Cordell Johnson, Bloomington.

Local guests were Messrs. and Mesdames Melvin Singleton, E. Sherron, Fenton Johnson, Leslie Woolford, H. Crawford, Howard E. Proctor, Melvin Ezell, Walter Ezell, Melvin A. Ezell, Archie Smith, William H. Saunders, R. L. White and Stephen J. Young, Sr., Mesdames Lula O'Banion, Hortense Rowlett, Katie Brown, Bessie Conn, Jennie Dyer and Norveline Saunders and Messrs. N. W. Smith, James Hendricks, Mack Brown, Harold Wills and Rudolph Ezell.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Bolton have moved from 550 North Senate avenue to 709 Edgemont avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson Lockett and his mother, Mrs. Lovie Lockett, and brother-in-law, all of Cleveland, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Edwards, 1317 Edgemont avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Knox and children, Joyce and Lorraine, motored to Williamson, West Virginia, where they are vacationing for three weeks with an aunt of Mrs. Knox.

R. B. Johnson spent Friday and Saturday with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Johnson, 612 West Michigan street, while enroute home to Warsaw after a trip to Los Angeles.

Julian Jackson, 2101 Valley avenue, who has been confined to the hospital for over three months, is now able to be out.

Jacqueline Harrell—A. M. Evans

Wedding bells rang June 2 for Rev. Arthur M. Evans and Jacqueline T. Harrell, with the double-ring ceremony being performed by the bride's father, Rev. F. Roy Hatcher, at his home in the presence of only the immediate family.

Rev. Evans is assistant pastor of St. Mark AMEZ Church, while Mrs. Evans has been for a number of years organist at Emmanuel Baptist Church. Rev. Evans is the son of Mrs. Mattie McKinney, well-known club woman.

They are at home to friends at 341 West 29th street.

Barbara Harris—Norman Clint

Mrs. Barbara Harris, prominent local business woman, became the bride of Norman Clint on Saturday, June 12, at the home of Rev. Jonathan A. Dames, pastor of Bethel AME Church, who officiated at the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Lee, sister and brother-in-law of Mrs. Harris, were their attendants.

Mr. Clint is also a businessman of the city.

Eda Wilson—Carl F. Payne

Carl F. Payne took Mrs. Eda Wilson as his bride Friday night, June 18, at the home of the bride's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Leky Harris, 410 West 28th street. The double-ring ceremony was read by Rev. B. Johnson.

The bride was given away by her cousin, Mr. Harris, while Mrs. Harris was matron of honor. Carl F. Payne, Jr., was his father's best man. Only relatives and close friends witnessed the ceremony.

The couple left the following morning for a week's visit with the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Douglass Phelps, at Mt. Pleasant, Texas. They are at home to friends at 523 West 31st street.

Mary Benton—Wayne S. Rose

Miss Mary Louise Benton became the bride of Wayne S. Rose in a beautiful ceremony in Barnes Methodist Church on Sunday, June 20. The pastor, Rev. Paul L. Ayers, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isham G. Benton, 316 West 28th street, and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Loving Rose, 934 East 17th street.

Mr. and Mrs. Rose are at home at 903 West 29th street.

Eleanor Harvey—Clinton Haynes

Mrs. Laurence E. Stewart announces the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Miss Eleanor J. Harvey, to Clinton Haynes. The wedding will take place Friday evening, July 9, at 8 at the home of the bride, 109-C South Artis drive, followed by a reception.

The groom's father, Will Jackson Haynes, lives in Nashville.

EVANSVILLE JUNE COUPLE: Mr. and Mrs. Peter Marvin Tolliver became man and wife in a ceremony at Evansville's Alexander Chapel AME Church on June 12. Mrs. Tolliver is the former Miss Yvonne Porter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Porter, Evansville.

Evansville Couple Choose June For Beautiful Church Rites

EVANSVILLE—Yellow and green formed the color theme for the wedding of Miss Yvonne Porter and Peter Marvin Tolliver at 4:30 Saturday afternoon, June 12, at Alexander Chapel AME Church here.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Porter, and Mr. Tolliver is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Tolliver, Nashville.

Rev. Ford I. Gibson officiated at the wedding. Bridal music was furnished by Mrs. Samuel Brooks and Miss Mary Coleman.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose white Chantilly lace over satin for her wedding gown. The back and side panels of the skirt featured rows of nylon net ruffles, and the skirt extended into a cathedral train. The portrait neckline was filled in with illusion. She wore Chantilly lace mitts.

The fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a corset of net trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a white orchid and a Bible.

Miss Margaret Ann Porter, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Mrs. Frank Cooman of Rochester, N. Y., former schoolmate of the bride at the Eastman School of Music, was matron of honor.

Serving as bridesmaids were the Misses Edna Whitaker, a cousin from Atlanta, Joan Holley and Jacques Thompson of Evansville and Shaunelle Perry, Chicago. The bridesmaids were gowned in canary yellow nylon net over tulle and wore ivy headresses and carried bouquets of yellow roses, daisies and ivy. The maid of honor wore a gown of pea green nylon net over tulle.

Mose Davie, Nashville, was best man, and groomsmen were James Watkins, Charles Robbins, Byron Moody, cousin of the bride; Joe Herrod, Nashville, brother-in-law of the groom, and Julius Parker, Ann Arbor, Mich. Alfred Wiley and George Chester served as ushers.

The bride's mother chose a dress of pale blue nylon net tulle and lace. She wore canary yellow accessories and yellow roses. The groom's mother wore a gown of blue crepe with inserted lace and white accessories. Her corsage was of white gardenias.

Rev. B. T. Almon Meets
Evangelism Challenge*REV. B. T. ALMON

Few leaders of the Baptist denomination hereabouts have been generally regarded as more qualified by natural endowment and experience to fill the high position of chairman of the Department of Evangelism of the Union District Baptist Association than Rev. B. T. Almon, elected to that office at a recent session of the Association.

Rev. Almon was born in Alabama where he received his early training and secular education at Sheffield high school and the Alabama A. & M. College at Normal, Ala., from which he was graduated with honors.

Beginning his ministry at Birmingham, he went to Chicago where he received his degree of bachelor of theology which qualified him for two years of service with the Home Mission Board of the National Baptist Convention, Inc.

Members of the Second Baptist Church in Casper, Wyoming, induced him to accept the pastorate their church which he led until called to the Calvary Baptist Church, Chicago.

Impressed by his fine character and outstanding qualities, the General Baptist State Convention of Mississippi secured his services as dean of religious education and as principal of the Palo Alto high school.

Realizing the value of travel and wide contact under differing circumstances, Rev. Almon then accepted pastorate of the Zion Baptist Church in Peoria, Ill., where he served successfully and with dignity until called to the historic Second Baptist Church of Terre Haute, Ind.

HERE, during three years of ministry, he led the congregation with such success that all indebtedness was liquidated, a substantial increase in membership effected and great improvements in the physical property of the church made.

Two years ago Rev. Almon moved to Indianapolis and purchased property.

Throughout the years of his devoted labor in the service of God, he has been ably assisted by his wife whom he terms a "guiding light" in his career. They have two children, one of whom is a Recorder carrier.

DURING THE PAST two years, he has served as associate minister of the Galilee Baptist Church, pastored by his closest friend, Rev. D. B. Dudley.

Members of the Union District Association are proud of Rev. Almon and confident in his ability as an evangelistic minister.

Officers and members of the evangelism department of the association are: Rev. W. L. Robinson, secretary; Rev. J. Brown, treasurer; Reverends D. B. Dudley, A. M. Hughes, B. T. Hughes, W. M. Hughes, R. T. Andrews, J. B. Carter, Z. P. Pittman, John Hall, Carl Hughes, Frank Jefferson and O. D. Williams.

Ind. AMEZ Pastors Hold
45th Annual Conference

The Indiana Annual Conference of the AMEZ Church marked another milestone quietly at its 45th annual session held at Caldwell Chapel AMEZ Church June 1 through 13.

Bishop R. L. Jones, presiding official of the Seventh Episcopal District of the AMEZ Church was in charge of the five-day program during which a deeply spiritual sense of obligation and responsibility inspired reverent attention to the spiritual and temporal phases of the conference activity.

Mayor Alex Clark, Dr. Howard J. Baumgartel, executive secretary of the Indianapolis Church Federation, and principal of Public School 63 were among public figures welcoming the conference delegates at a public meeting June 9.

Rev. Charles Ewbank Tucker, presiding elder, acknowledged the cordial welcomes on behalf of the Conference.

Opening services were conducted by Rev. G. Alexander Brooks, host pastor assisted by Rev. G. Sims Rivers, Evansville, Ill., and Rev. D. F. Martinez of the West Tennessee and Mississippi Conference.

OBSERVANCE of communion was highlighted by the communion message of Rev. T. R. Starks, Centralia, Ill. Bishop Jones was assisted in the communion service by Bishop James Clair Taylor, who presided over the denomination's Sixth Episcopal District.

Elected as officers of the Conference were, Mrs. Leola Brooks, secretary, Mrs. Terreller P. Rivers her assistant and the Reverends H. H. Horton and George Tate, marshals.

Ministers of the conference took turns in conducting devotional services at daily meetings.

A HIGHLIGHT of the sessions was the "School of the Prophets" conducted by Rev. D. J. Hughlett, area director of Christian education of the Kentucky Conference, and Dr. C. F. Spurgeon, pastor of Evans Metropolitan AMEZ Church, Fayetteville, N. C., and D. W. Andrews.

New Pastor Here*REV. BURTON

The responsibility of continuing the fullest effectiveness of Phillips Temple C (Christian) ME Church as a great spiritual force for good in this community has been entrusted to Rev. Herbert Lee Burton, outstanding clergyman recently transferred from the Washington-Virginia CME Conference.

Until his transfer here, he served as pastor of the Israel Metropolitan CME Church in Washington, D. C., for nine years achieving a record of meeting all church and conference requirements fully and promptly, increasing the membership from 300 to 800 and completing $1,500 improvement on the church property.

During the Washington phase of his busy career, he was president of the Methodist Preachers' Union of Washington and vicinity; secretary of the Interdenominational Ministerial Alliance of D. C.; an officer in the National Capital Lodge No. 980 of the Elks, member of the Masons and the Omega Psi Phi fraternity, and chairman of the joint board of finance of the Washington-Virginia Conference.

HE HAS ATTENDED the 1950 and 1954 General Conferences of his church being elected editor of the Eastern Index, one of the official publications of the CME Church at the 1945 meeting in Memphis.

He is also a commissioner of the Fraternal Council of Churches, president of the Lane College Club of Washington.

During his career he furnished leadership for the burning of two church mortgages—Mt. Olive CME Church in the S. C. Conference and St. Matthew Church in the N. C. Conference. Eight men have been inspired by him to enter the ministry.

He is ably assisted in church affairs by his wife, Mrs. Grace Burton. They have two children.

Mrs. Alice Lyies

Services for Mrs. Alice Mitchell Lyies, 98 years old, were held at the Jacobs Brothers Funeral Home June 30 with burial in New Crown.

Mrs. Lyies who had lived here the past seven years died June 27 in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edward Clemons, 2101 Boulevard Place.

She was a former resident of Madison, Ind. and a member of the Ebenezer Methodist Church.

Surviving besides the daughter, Mrs. Clemons, are a son, Albert Lyies, Dayton, Ohio; three grandchildren, including Clarence Clemons, Indianapolis; six great-grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

COLOR TV COMING TO CBS

NEW YORK (AP)—Color TV is coming to the Columbia Broadcasting System beginning Aug. 22 with the "Toast of the Town." Later in the fall the "Jack Benny" starring Rochester, will be seen in color.

CBS plans to present more than 40 television shows in color this fall. The programs will be presented on a rotating basis, with three or more programs represented each week. Hubbell Robinson Jr., vice-president in charge of network programs, announced.

"The Negro Press Remains Indispensable" - Marshall

DETROIT — The Negro newspaper was described as indispensable in the "fight for freedom," by Thurgood Marshall, special counsel for the NAACP, speaking to delegates and visitors to the annual convention of the National Newspaper Publishers Association here last Saturday.

These publications are the only media of communication for guidance and direction to the great masses of people, especially in the South, Mr. Marshall said.

OPponents of unsegregated schools, both private citizens and state officials, are directing effective propaganda at the Negro in an effort to discourage further steps to end segregation in public schools, the journalists heard.

C. C. Dejeu, Jr., editor of the Louisiana Weekly, New Orleans, was elected president. William G. Nunn, managing editor of the Pittsburgh Courier, was named vice-president. Other officers were elected. They are William O. Walker, Cleveland Call and Post, secretary, and Mrs. Nannie Mitchell Turner, St. Louis Argus, treasurer.

FOUR of the five members of the board of directors whose terms expired this year were reelected. They are Carl Murphy, Baltimore Afro-American; Emory O. Jackson, Birmingham World; Frank L. Stanley, Louisville Defender, and John H. Sengstacke, Chicago Defender.

The fifth director elected was Thomas W. Young, Norfolk Journal and Guide president and general manager. He replaced John Kirkpatrick, East St. Louis (Ill.) Chusader.

A PANEL on newspaper promotion featured a talk by Fred Lowe, promotion manager of the Detroit Free Press who formerly held a similar position with Norfolk Newspapers, Inc.

The advertising panel featured Clarence Holte, marketing research specialist with Batten, Barton, Durstine and Osborne, New York advertising agency.

Other convention speakers were Mark Parsons, of the public relations department of Ford Motor Company; Louis R. Laufer, director of the NNPA News Service, and Lester B. Granger, executive director of the National Urban League.

TOP DENTIST A SURPRISE VISITOR: A surprise visitor to the recent 21st annual session of the Pan-Tennessee Dental Association meeting in Memphis was Dr. C. L. Thomas of Louisville, Ky., president of the National Dental Association. While in Memphis Dr. Thomas conferred with Dr. S. P. Harris of Nashville and Dr. W. E. McKissack of Jackson, who will be clinicians at the national convention of the NDA to be held Aug. 1-6 in Indianapolis. Pictured in the above scene (l to r) are: Doctors E. T. Coroner Orders Probe Of Man's Unsolved Death

An all-out investigation into the mysterious death of a man found Tuesday morning in a Westside rooming house was launched Thursday when Coroner Roy B. Storms reported the man suffered a fractured skull and said circumstances surrounding his death were "suspicious."

Earl W. Patterson, 33, was found dead in his room at 404 N. West. He was lying nude on his back on the floor of the room, which was a shambles with wrecked furniture scattered about.

Mrs. Myrtle Patterson, his mother, and Huntley Rankin, 68-year-old custodian at the house, found the body.

Mrs. Patterson, 227 N. Capitol avenue, suffered a heart attack as a result of the discovery and required treatment by a General Hospital physician.

RANKIN TOLD POLICE Patterson was a heavy drinker and had fallen downstairs Saturday after an extended drinking spree. The custodian said he, Emerson Davis, 36, and Hobart Ford, 55, both of 510 W. Vermont, carried Patterson back up the stairs and put him on the bed in his room.

Rankin said he found Patterson lying on the floor of his room Sunday afternoon, clad only in underwear. Thinking the man was trying to escape the terrific heat, Rankin said, he left him without further investigation and locked the door to the room.

Patterson had not been dead long at the time his body was found.

Dr. L. A. Lewis performed an autopsy at General Hospital on Tuesday and reported to Coroner Storms.

Dr. Storms said it was not possible for a man to live more than a "reasonably short" length of time after receiving a blow as severe as the one which caved the top back part of Patterson's skull in.

This thing looks very suspicious," the coroner told The Recorder.

He went on to say the blow could have been inflicted by a blackjack, the flat side of a two-by-four or a heavy stick.

The scalp was not cut.

Dr. Storms said it was also possible the man could have suffered the injury in a fall.

No bruises or injuries were reported on other parts of the body, except a swelling about the eyes which is natural when the skull is fractured, according to Dr. Storms.

Capt. Robert Reilly, head of the Homicide Bureau, assigned Det. Sgt. Fred Whisler and Lee Hindman to make a complete investigation of the case.

The two officers also handled the original investigation.

FUNERAL ARRANGEMENTS were being held up Thursday as Patterson's family made attempts to get a brother, Milton M. Patterson, serving with the Army in Korea, home for the services.

Stuart Mortuary was in charge. Services were scheduled to be held in the Stuart Chapel and burial in Floral Park cemetery.

A lifelong resident here, Patterson was a truck driver. Besides the mother and brother, he is survived by a widow, Ruth Patterson, and a sister, Mrs. Naomi Storey.

54-Year-Old Man Drowns In Canal; Probe Ordered

FRANK LEWIS, SR.

Frank Lewis, 54-year-old laborer whose body was found in the Canal on Friday of last week, was buried Wednesday in New Crown cemetery as the coroner's office continued an investigation into the circumstances surrounding his death.

Police pulled the man from the water near the Indiana avenue bridge after being called to the scene by Elree Westmoreland, 42, 443 1/2 Indiana avenue.

Frank Lewis, Jr., a son, was on the scene and identified his father's body.

Police investigating the death reported no one saw Lewis enter the Canal. No evidence of foul play was found.

A laborer on the New York Central Railroad, Lewis was born in New Orleans and lived here 40 years. Relatives said he recently suffered a fractured skull on the

CONTRIBUTE TO CAMP FUND: The women's auxiliary of the Hoosier State Medical Association, meeting here last week while the physicians' group was meeting, presented a $25 contribution to the Flanner House camp fund. At the presentation were, left to right, Mrs. E. H. Hudson, Anderson, retiring president; Mrs. E. D. Moten, newly elected president; Mrs. H. L. Hummons, treasurer, and T. H. Simpson, administrative assistant at Flanner House.

Dr. King S. Jones, Michigan City, Becomes Hoosier Medics' Head

Dr. King S. Jones, Michigan City, was seated as president of the Hoosier State Medical Association during the body's fifth annual session here June 22-23 with headquarters in the Herman G. Morgan Health Center.

Dr. Jones succeeds Dr. Martin H. Lovell, Gary, who presided over the business sessions and gave introductory remarks at the opening Tuesday morning meeting. Dr. J. S. Smith presided over that meeting, and Rev. C. H. Bell, pastor of Mt. Paran Baptist Church, gave the invocation.

The convention audience heard a distinguished array of speakers, including Drs. David C. Gastineau, instructor in the department of X-Ray at the Indiana University Medical School; Kenneth G. Kohlstaedt, director of the Lilly laboratory of Chemical Research, and L. T. Meiks, professor of pediatrics at the Indiana University Medical School.

Also speakers were Drs. Mortimer Mann, assistant professor in the department of ophthalmology at the I. U. school and staff member at St. Vincent's, Methodist and General hospitals, and B. L. Martz, assistant in the I. U. medical department and physician at the Lilly Laboratory and General Hospital.

Others included Drs. Harold G. Russell of Robert Koch hospital, St. Louis; Harold Thatcher, Chicago, and W. H. Young, F. A. C. P., assistant director of medicine at Homer G. Phillips hospital, St. Louis, chief of staff at St. Mary's Infirmary and senior medical instructor at the St. Louis University School of Medicine.

MEMBERS OF THE ASSOCIATION who also appeared as speakers were Dr. E. P. Thomas of Indianapolis, who spoke on "Carcinoma of the Stomach"; L. B. Johnson, Gary, "Diabetes in Pregnancy," and R. W. Briggs, Indianapolis, "Experiences in a Prisoner-of-War Hospital."

In addition to Drs. Smith and Lovell, sessions were presided over by Drs. Carolyn Dickson and Walter H. Maddux, both of Indianapolis.

Other officers elected are Drs. Dickson, vice-president; Briggs, president-elect; Harvey N. Middleton, Indianapolis, general secretary; Maddux, corresponding secretary; C. W. Wood, Gary, treasurer, and Thomas, exchequer.

The executive council includes Drs. E. D. Moten, Indianapolis, chairman, Johnson and Paul A. Batties, Indianapolis. On the liaison committee, of which Dr. Moten is also chairman, are Drs. J. S. Smith, Muncie, and Lovell.

Dr. Lovell was named regular representative to the National Medical Association, and Dr. Smith was elected special representative to the house of delegates.

THE WOMEN'S AUXILIARY of the group also held meetings, being welcomed by Mrs. Frank Chowning, president of the Me-De-Phar Guild, and hearing as speaker on "The Polio Foundation" Mrs. Ira L. Faith, Evansville, state advisor of women's activities.

Mrs. E. D. Moten, Indianapolis, succeeds Mrs. E. H. Hudson, Anderson, as president. Other women's officers are Mesdames D. A. Betha, Hammond, vice-president; H. N. Middleton, Indianapolis, corresponding secretary; J. Leon Simms, Indianapolis, recording secretary, and H. L. Hummons, Indianapolis, reelected treasurer.

For relaxation the physicians and their wives and guests enjoyed dinner on Tuesday night at Whispering Winds and on Wednesday afternoon made a luncheon tour of the new Indiana University Medical School building.

AN OUNCE OF PREVENTION: Residents of the West Parkview community, a pleasant settlement two miles east of Bridgeport, believing in the old one about an ounce of prevention, have purchased a well-equipped fire truck and established a fire department under the captaincy of William Parker. With the truck christened recently in extinguishing a field fire, the community's civic club, of which Henry Walker is president, now is working to get a siren to place atop the fire truck building to summon the fire department members when needed.

THIS INDEPENDENCE DAY

Independence Day takes on a new meaning to American citizens of color. One hundred and seventy-seven years ago our founding fathers expressed the basic principles of Americanism in the Declaration of Independence:

"We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed."

Reaffirm these truths to yourself and to your neighbor. Our fathers and brothers fought and died to preserve the Blessing of Liberty in our land.

We, too, must dedicate our lives to the welfare of America.

This message affords the Negro American a new look at America, pointing out the great progress he has made under our American system.

New job frontiers, new economic and social frontiers have been gained. He is encouraged to hold fast to that which is good, because there are many men of good will in America today.

Evansville Woman Wins Free Trip To NAACP Dallas Convention

EVANSVILLE — Miss Willie Effie Thomas, prominent NAACP worker and civic leader, was awarded an expense-paid trip to Dallas to attend the national convention

"Flight for Freedom" drive. Miss Thomas represented the Delta C. and S. A. line and brought in the largest amount of any of the workers.

Miss Thomas will visit her father at Tyler, Tex., before returning to Evansville.

Also leaving Sunday to represent Evansville at the national convention were Jesse Carbon, runner-up in the "Flight for Freedom" contest and branch secretary; Rev. Carlene N. Bell, chairman of the branch housing committee; and youth members, Miss Mazola Baltzell, secretary of the NAACP Youth Council and announcer for the radio series, and Claudius Bonds, charter member and treasurer of the council.

As runner-up in the drive, Carbon won a trip to the state NAACP board meeting and picnic held at Marquette Beach, Gary, June 12.

A WORLD WAR II veteran, he is an active member of Zion Baptist Church, being a teacher of the men's Sunday school class and a deacon. He is a member of the board of directors of the Council of Churches and is also a member of the American Legion.

The membership drive has been extended until the quota of 500 members set for Evansville by the national office of the NAACP has been reached. The local branch had at this writing 183 minimum memberships, according to Rev. J. M. Caldwell, president.

Other workers include Mesdames Fannie Crawley, L. A. George, Frances Hernandez, Dorothy Rouse and Dorothy Warfield, Rev. Bell, Dr. William F. Dendy and Messrs. Howard Moody, Claude Holbrook and Dallas Sprinkles.

The airlines divisions have entered a new contest, and a prize will be awarded to the one bringing in the largest report.

Chicago Golfer Wins 6th Annual Douglass Tourney

THEY'RE JUST WILD ABOUT HARRY: One of the most popular players of the fast-flying Indianapolis Indians is Harry Simpson, the former Cleveland outfielder. And it's little wonder. Though sidelined the past two weeks with a badly twisted ankle, Harry came off the bench twice to deliver ringing doubles in clutch situations. His sensational catches in center field rate him tops in the American Association at his position.

THE BY PRES BOX

Hiawatha Gray on the Fight

Passing along the observations on the fight of Hiawatha Gray, former well-known boxer himself and for many years trainer of Archie Moore.

Hiawatha is no TV or movie expert, but SAW the Marciano-Charles bout from closeup, and KNEW what he was looking at.

He has a strong opinion about the column of a local scribe who went to the Indiana Theater and came out proclaiming that the fix was on, and that "gentlemen who work for the International Boxing Club must stay in line to do so."

As we say, Gray's opinion is a strong one but not a favorable one. "I am going to see that column to Jim Norris of the IBC," he said. "That fellow has rendered himself liable."

"After Charles and Marciano bloodied each other up like that, to talk about a 'fix' is ridiculous. In fact, I'm not so sure there will be a rematch in September because I wonder whether they can recover by that time. Both those boys left something in that ring they will never get back."

GRAY CAN'T BE accused of thinking he's looking at a rough fight when he isn't, either. He has a poor opinion of most present-day matches, as far as violence is concerned.

"Everything is different now from the old days, with these boxers coming up through the Golden Gloves and AAU," he observed. "Now they get out and box and so on. They just don't know the meaning of fighting as it used to be."

He paused reflectively and then said, to emphasize his point: "Why, I never knew of such a thing as a dirty fighter! The two men were in the ring and the purpose was to win, that was all."

Getting back to Charles, Hiawatha had told us before the fight that the Cincinnati would surprise a lot of people, because he was in shape. Now he recalled this prediction, and added:

"If Charles had paced himself after the early rounds, he would have won. When he saw he couldn't finish Rocky off, he should have settled down and gone for points. But he gave them a fight, huh?"

"They don't like Charles because he is the cleanest-living man in the ring today. He may be a little old, but he's not flabby and over the hill because he's lived right. And he showed everybody that he has guts."

A BESTANDER put in: "They always said Charles wouldn't fight because he killed a man in the ring and it haunted him."

Hiawatha shook his head. "He died after the fight," he said. "And that doesn't worry Charles. Why should it?"

He looked around the circle of listeners. "A fellow I was in with died too," he recalled. "But it wouldn't fight because he killed a man in the ring and it haunted him."

Hiawatha Gray scowled, for he is a serious-minded man who has put a lifetime into boxing and doesn't like the half-baked ideas that spring up like mushrooms before and after every major fight. He likes to keep things straight.

You shouldn't think from the above that Gray is a bloodthirsty or killer type. He is a soft-spoken, mild-mannered gentleman, one of the most courteous men we have known. But like we said, he is serious about boxing. When men put their bodies and souls—even their lives—on the line for something, it is a poor act to cry "fix."

Indians Play Cincinnati—Then Foes Get Tougher

By CHARLES S. PRESTON
If you thought June was hot here come July and with it a possible make-or-break stand for Indianapolis' interracial Indians.

The Tribe starts off Thursday, July 1, at 6 p. m. against the Cincinnati Reds and after that the opposition gets, if anything, tougher.

Birdie Tebbetts' Cincinnatians weren't expected to be trying too hard, of course, in the exhibition tilt. Main interest of local fans centered in seeing the National League players in the flesh.

Included on the Redlegs' roster are two Negro performers. Third baseman Charley Harmon is proudly claimed by Washington, Ind., where he was making high school basketball history not so many years ago.

The other seapian is Puerto Rican Nino Escalera, right fielder who was with Indianapolis briefly last season.

AFTER THAT the Tribe's opponents will be out for blood. Following the same evening, as the business half of a double-header, was to be the final tilt with 3rd-place Louisville.

Then the schedule called for, in rapid-fire order, series with 5th-place Kansas City, 4th-place Minneapolis and 2nd-place St. Paul (standings as of Tuesday). These are the roughneck clubs of the American Association and it's now or never for them to stop Kerby Farrell's high-flying boys. If the Indians continue their winning ways through this stand, the others can kiss the pennant goodbye.

As a matter of fact the Naptowns are so far ahead now that as of Tuesday, they had to play the rest of the season at only a .519 clip in order to win the 90 games that were good enough for the flag last season.

Speaking of exhibition tilts, Fort Wayne fans will get a chance to see the Indians when they play the Van Trucks in that city on Saturday, July 2, at 8:15 p. m.

One of the top semi-pro teams in the U. S., the Trucks have played the Chicago White Sox, Chicago Cubs and Cincinnati Reds.

The 4th of July at Victory Field will find the customary fireworks.

THE BIG NEWS this past week has been the continued torrid hitting and brilliant glove work of Bill Harrell. He has "found himself" to such an extent that he simply doesn't look like the same player who was with the Tribe in April and May.

Knocking off hits at better than a .350 pace during the present home stand, Harrell had raised his season average to .290 and himself to third in the order by Monday.

The Barrington Manor housing development has become quite an Indian "reservation." The Harrells, the Harry Simp-

Clowns Hold Edge in Tight Negro American League Race

Only 3½ games separate the first-place and last-place teams in the Negro American League, according to latest statistics compiled by Howe News Bureau.

Resting in the shaky top slot are the Indianapolis Clowns, 11-11-500. At the bottom but definitely not languishing are last year's NAL champs, the Kansas City Monarchs, 10-14-417.

These two teams will clash in a July 4 double-header at Comisky Park in Chicago to close the first-half race of the NAL.

Only four percentage points out of first place are the Memphis Red Sox. The new Detroit nine is in third place, the Birmingham Black Barons in fourth and the Louisville Clippers in fifth.

Although merely a step out of the cellar, the Clippers lead the NAL in hitting and fielding. Rufe Gibson tops the league in batting with .509 and a teammate John Williams, is second with .437.

George Wanamaker of the Clowns is the loop's top slugger, leading in runs, 31; hits, 42; triples, 6; and in home runs, 5, and second in runs batted in, 30.

Top pitcher is Memphis' veteran Isiah Harris with a 5-0 record and four complete games.

Davis of Memphis leads in strikeouts with 43.

Lawrence Wins Big League Debut For Cardinals

PITTSBURGH (ANP) — Brooks Lawrence, brought up to the St. Louis Cardinals last week from their Columbus Redbirds farm club, won his first major league start as he defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-1.

Lawrence gave up only 4 scattered singles, walked 2 men and struck out 4.

Helping the St. Louis cause was rookie first baseman Tom Alston who came out of his hitting slump with a single, a double and a triple and drove in one run in four times at bat.

With Columbus in the American Association, Lawrence sported a 6-4 record when he was promoted to the Cardinals. He and Ralph Beard were brought up to bolster the shaky St. Louis pitching staff.

One of the hurlers returned to Columbus in exchange was Bill Greacon, who was shelled out of the box in both his big league starts.

In his last appearance at Indianapolis before going up to the Cardinals, Lawrence dropped a 6-4 decision June 18.

Douglass Yankees Win 1st-Half Title
The IBEW No. 1048 Yankees clinched the first-half championship of the Douglass Little League on Monday by edging the RVA-Victor Giants, 7-6.

The Giants had the bases loaded several times but couldn't get the necessary runs in.

David Bromley, Giants' first baseman, has hit three home runs this season.

Roosevelt Warren and Freddy Martin of the Yankees are the league's leading pitchers. Each has a 3-1 record.

Tuesday evening, the East 25th St. Merchant Dodgers beat the Hill-gemeier Bros. Indians, 13-1.

City Netters Host To Cleveland Club
The Capital City Tennis Club will host the Forest City Tennis Club of Cleveland, Ohio, in a tournament at Riverside Park on Sunday from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Events will include men's and women's singles and doubles, and matches for junior players.

A series of tennis clinics at Northwestern Park has been announced by the club. Teachers are Brownell Payne, junior boys; Donald Russell, junior girls, and Louis Hackney, adults.

The groups meet Mondays from 6:30 to 7:30 p. m. and Wednesdays and Sundays from 4 to 7 p. m. Ellis Diggs is president of the club.

NAL Standings

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Indianapolis Clowns	14	11	.560
Memphis Red Sox	15	12	.556
Detroit	11	11	.500
B'ham Black Barons	11	12	.476
Louisville Clippers	9	10	.474
Kan. City Monarchs	10	14	.417

At the bottom but definitely not languishing are last year's NAL champs, the Kansas City Monarchs, 10-14-417.

These two teams will clash in a July 4 double-header at Comisky Park in Chicago to close the first-half race of the NAL.

Only four percentage points out of first place are the Memphis Red Sox. The new Detroit nine is in third place, the Birmingham Black Barons in fourth and the Louisville Clippers in fifth.

Although merely a step out of the cellar, the Clippers lead the NAL in hitting and fielding. Rufe Gibson tops the league in batting with .509 and a teammate John Williams, is second with .437.

George Wanamaker of the Clowns is the loop's top slugger, leading in runs, 31; hits, 42; triples, 6; and in home runs, 5, and second in runs batted in, 30.

Top pitcher is Memphis' veteran Isiah Harris with a 5-0 record and four complete games.

Davis of Memphis leads in strikeouts with 43.

Lawrence Wins Big League Debut For Cardinals

PITTSBURGH (ANP) — Brooks Lawrence, brought up to the St. Louis Cardinals last week from their Columbus Redbirds farm club, won his first major league start as he defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-1.

Lawrence gave up only 4 scattered singles, walked 2 men and struck out 4.

Helping the St. Louis cause was rookie first baseman Tom Alston who came out of his hitting slump with a single, a double and a triple and drove in one run in four times at bat.

With Columbus in the American Association, Lawrence sported a 6-4 record when he was promoted to the Cardinals. He and Ralph Beard were brought up to bolster the shaky St. Louis pitching staff.

Jake Simmons Triumphs In Local Amateur Meet

Jake Simmons of Chicago was the winner in the 6th Annual Memorial Golf Tournament, held Saturday and Sunday at Douglass Park with the Douglass Golf Club as host.

A total of 115 entrants, coming from throughout the Middle West and as far away as California, took part in the amateur medal meet. One white golfer made it interracial.

Simmons shot rounds of 34, 37 and 34 to win the men's championship flight by three strokes.

A "sudden death" match gave second place to "Skinny Boy" Wilborn of Dayton, who had tied with Jimmy Jordan of Chicago at 108.

Wilborn won the playoff by shooting a par 4 on the only hole, Jordan taking a 5.

Jordan was the medalist, qualifying with 66 over 18 holes.

INDIANAPOLIS KEPT some of the glory at home as Elisabeth Stanfield won the women's championship by one stroke over Myrtle Melver of Dayton. Miss Stanfield shot 174 and Miss Melver 175. Third was the medalist, Ann Mahan of Indianapolis, also with 175.

Another title stayed home when Abraham Dillard of Indianapolis took the men's senior flight (50 and over) for the third consecutive year.

Three local juniors—14-year-old Arnold Patton, 13-year-old Donald Mitchell and 15-year-old James Drew—placed in various flights.

Mrs. Marjorie Cabell was chairman of the tournament, which is held annually in honor of deceased members of the club—Andrew Sharpe, Emmanuel Jones, Edison Marshall (the former pro), and Herb Davis.

Jack Lee is president of the club.

100% NEUTRAL SPIRITS DISTILLED FROM GRAIN • GORDON'S DRY GIN CO., LTD., LINDEN, N. J.

The Counts Featuring "Darling Dear" at Skatarena Sat.

BACK BY POPULAR DEMAND... Eddie Chamblee, "Little Man with the Big Horn," and his combo are jumpin' nitely at George's Bar and Orchid Room. Be sure and see and hear the man who "blows" while hanging from the rafters over the week end.

THE AVENUE... The Street is practically littered with fine 'chines'... and the Jodies are having a field day blowing their horns at lovely females as they tread perspicuously along the main stem on their way home. . . . One wonders what some of these Jodies are puttin' down . . . when they are seen nite after nite following the same pattern. . . . That is chasing after another fine brown frame. . . . It's almost impossible for a younga delovely to walk two or more blocks without being 'pestered' by these horn tooters.

SEEMS AS IF these Jodies think that their fine curs give them license to molest women who probably don't have the means to get on rubber. . . . Well, after all, the slogan was "Share a Ride," and these guys are really trying to make it pay off. . . . They are still doing it in spite of the fact the buses are back in service.

YOU HAVEN'T SEEN NUTHIN' if you haven't seen these Jodies in action along the main stem after dusk.

HELLO BILL! Well it's picnic time and Indiana Lodge 104 is busy with plans for their gala 10th annual picnic and outing to be held Monday (day and nite) at Birdwell's Farm. . . . The Elks must be given credit for sponsoring one of the best pleasure events ever witnessed in Naptown. . . . In fact the affair has grown into an institution. . . . And thousands of picnickers can be seen on the grounds enjoying that good old fashioned barbecue, refreshments and basket lunches. . . . It's a day of enjoyment, where folk let their hair down and play to their heart's content. . . . This year's event promises to outdo all past affairs, according to Oscar Harris, chairman, and Osa Woodall, exalted ruler. . . . So, come out and bring your friends and have the time of your life in the wide-open spaces.

BARBECUE AT ITS BEST... Brownie's Barbequary at 541 Bright st. will hold its grand opening this Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday. . . . Four days of feasting on charcoal pit barbecue, fish and chicken. . . . Come out and enjoy an order of choice ribs "under the stars". Claude Brown is the proprietor.

BREAKFAST AT TAYLOR'S... We breakfasted at Taylor's restaurant last Saturday a.m. in company with 2 lovely ladies, who are still talking about the mellow food served at the eatery. . . . We have known Mr. Taylor for years. . . . And it's always a pleasure to dine in his establishment.

A NEWS SERVICE... The Martindale Ave. Market, corner of 25th, member of the Big 10 Supermarkets, will deliver your groceries right to your home. All you need to do is pick up the phone and call them. You are assured of prompt service. This delivery service is FREE. Remember, the Martindale Ave. Market is as close to you as your telephone.

RAMBLING WITH THE NEWS... Jumped into the Del Morocco Club, 1219 1/2 last Friday nite and found the place really jumpin'. William Hearn is your congenial host. . . . Art Richardson, former deputy sheriff, is salesman for the Friendly Beverage company, which sells Falstaff beer, made in Fort Wayne. . . . It's good. . . . How do I know? Well I tasted it t'other nite. . . . Won't you try it? You'll be helpin' Art, who is a very fine person. . . . Dropped in on Ann Cole at 531 Bright t'other evening and met some very fine people which included Leary Rogers, Eugene Rogers, Katherine and Claude Brown, Myrtle Meadows and Ann Drake. . . . Also visited with McCarley Spaulding the song and dance man, in his home on Patterson st. Then traveled to the James Dunlaps in W. Michigan st. . . . Also chatted with lovely Marie Johnson at Jack's liquor store.

SEE FOREST... Drop in at the Melody Inn over on Blake st. and meet Forest McBain and the fine numbers working there over the week end.

Sissle Welcomes Colleagues To Music Fold In New York

NEW YORK (ANP)—The nation's top musicians, composers and Broadway notables were honored here in elaborate ceremonies when the Royston Conservatory of Music, under the direction of Dr. Henry L. Royston, made Eubie Blake and Jacob Porter honorary fellows. The honorees were sponsored by Nobel Sissle and Leigh Whipper, both fellows of the conservatory.

Appearing on program was the school chorus conducted by Dr. Furman Fordham, the Rev. Florida Howard, Sissle, Whipper, Mary R. Ewell and other musical notables. Blake, long associated with Sissle in "Shuffle Along" among other productions, and Lt. Porter were cited for their humanitarianism and the amity they brought to all races through the medium of song. rhythm and music in all its various phases. Blake was deeply moved by the citations and the special salute of the chorus to him (a song of his childhood), "I Just Came from the Fountain."

The Royston conservatory was founded 10 years ago.

National Negro Musicians Further Youth Movement

By CARL DITON

NEW YORK (ANP)—Within recent years, the National Association of Negro Musicians, Inc., emulated a movement long since inaugurated by most national organizations—the youth movement—one of which is known locally as the Carmen Sheppard Youth Group, NANM.

Last week at Carnegie Recital hall, a program was presented for the national scholarship fund as well as for the coming 1954 convention. The program was of high calibre. There were three highlights on the program: Warren Williams, a former national scholarship winner, two original piano compositions by Albert Pointer—Prelude and Habanera—and two standard numbers by Vivian Jacobs, mezzo-soprano.

Buddy and Ella Johnson All Set For Sunset Sunday

MUSICAL UPBEAT

By BETTY TAFT
(Guest Columnist)

Last week, we attempted to brief you on the history of Jazz and why each and every musician who attempts to play an instrument, should do so with reverence, because it is one of our many heritages. . . . We briefed you on how the first Jam Sessions were held on the streets of New Orleans and how the several instruments came into prominence. We enlightened a few folk, we were glad to learn, and thanks for the flowers . . . we so appreciate them while we can enjoy them . . . but back to the music. . . .

The elements of Jazz, we mentioned were the tempo—usually they were played in 4-4 time . . . and the melody . . . they were exciting and different and yet, each expressed the hopes of its composer and each musician improvised the melody and added his own interpolations . . . that is why such names as Duke Ellington, the late Jimmie Lunceford, Fletcher Henderson, Chick Webb, as well as Count Basie, Don Redmon, Claude Hopkins, and many other prominent band leaders will always hold precedence in the hearts and minds of real music lovers, for these men mastered their instruments and gave to the world a definite contribution.

You can't forget the drums of Chick Webb in Ella Fitzgerald's original and immortal "A Tisket-A Tasket" . . . You can't forget the melody, harmony and rhythm of Jimmie Lunceford's "For Dancers Only" . . . you'll always remember Fletcher's "Christopher Columbus" . . . We can remember the days when the Duke broadcast each night from 11 to 11:30 or midnight, and his theme song was "East St. Louis Tootle-loo." He used a bass horn in those days. . . . How can you ever forget "Sophisticated Lady" "Things Ain't What They Used To Be" "Solitude" "Don't Get Around Much Anymore" . . . and others? . . . Why is it that some songs live forever and others die? Everybody can't write a song . . . everybody can't play an instrument that moves you . . . let us look deeper into the history of this music, which is an art of our people. . . .

Let us go back before the days of JAZZ and see what the great philosopher Plato had to say about music. . . . Quote: "Music is an Art imbued with power to penetrate into the very depths of the soul, imbuing man with the love of virtue." End of quote. . . . The sordidness of life's problems; the things that we have not, the things that we desire can all be burdens of the heart, yet not so sordid nor so burdensome that they cannot be lessened by the gentle touch of music. . . . When a musician of note composes a song, if you are moved by the melody, and there is harmony and rhythm in the song, you can rest assured its composer is moved from the soul . . . for the soul that vibrates to music, vibrates to and with God . . . that which comes from WITHIN is certainly creative and in accordance with God, for the three attributes of music correspond with the trinity . . . God, the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit. . . . Broken down into the three elements of music . . . Melody . . . Harmony . . . and Rhythm . . . without these three, there is no music. . . . Melody is the highest source of sound . . . there is no mortal invention here, but pure inspiration—it is a spiritual gift . . . harmony is a mental attribute . . . and rhythm is a bodily attribute . . . (the Trinity of man is expressed here), Spirit, Mind and Body respectively. . . .

In a musician of today, sometimes all of these are not present. . . . Without melody, a musician loses sight of the spiritual element . . . he plays an instrument mechanically and without inner depth and feeling. . . . If he has melody, sometimes harmony is lacking; thus discordance arises and his music is without tone and quality; if he lacks rhythm, he cannot successfully follow the melody, and without the melody, there is no song. . . . A real musician has all of the attributes. . . . He first is inspired from within to play; being inspired, he possesses a certain harmony, for in being inspired he is in tune to receive the melody from the cosmic forces . . . when he has the melody and harmony, there is a natural vibration of rhythm and with these three he is able to express himself and to make you relax, and give expression to your burdensome heart. . . .

But with these three, a musician is required to keep in practice . . . without practice he loses sight of one of the three basic elements . . . consequently he is not putting into full execution his ability to play music. . . . It is an inevitable and indisputable fact that the combo now featured at the Cotton Club has within the four instruments, as played by Willis Dyer, Glenn Douglass, Oliver Napier and Harold Gooch, real music. . . . Music that spans the gaps between those heart burdens . . . relaxes its listeners and breaks monotony of humdrum living . . . makes the heart rejoice and sing . . . there is melody in each of the songs . . . there is harmony and there is rhythm. The great Duke Ellington is to be commended for the emphasis and the resonance he put into rhythm sections: piano, drums, and bass fiddles. . . . Being a composer, we know that he is in tune. . . . Like-wise with Dyer, Gooch and Napier. . . . It is very difficult to play an organ . . . (sometime we hope to give you the history of this instrument) . . . it is difficult to carry the melody, with harmony and rhythm on the bass fiddle . . . and it is also difficult to be consistent with your drum beat . . . especially while a tenor saxophonist is improvising and interpolating as Glenn Douglass is able to do . . . nevertheless and by, it remains that music comes forth . . . it is a blessing that we have one combo of which we can boast. . . . We know that our No Mean City has afforded many very fine musicians . . . each within his own rights and merits . . . for this reason we are hoping that the city can continue to produce musicians . . . each a master within his own merits. . . .

Let us remember that music is the highest art . . . that our forefathers created American Jazz in a class and distinction all their own . . . let us remember that it is our heritage to keep this art forever alive . . . that whenever possible we will contribute to this art, but never discredit it. . . .

(next week, we hope to remind you of some local jazzmen who have made worthwhile contributions or left a memory to this art.)

ROY HAMILTON SNAGS CASH BOX AWARD
NEW YORK (ANP)—Roy Hamilton, the "You'll Never Walk Alone" artist, last week was named winner of Cash Box magazine's most promising young singer award of the year.

Vir ually unknown a few months ago, Hamilton also won another honor. The country's top disc jockeys voted his record the one they had to spin most in the past 12

Sunday nite, July 4 will be red letter day at the Sunset dancery, when Buddy Johnson, the young pianist-bandleader and his famous orchestra plus Ella Johnson and Nolan Lewis hit the deck for a one-nite holiday dance engagement. There'll be 4 hours of solid music and singing with plenty of fans to keep you COOL.

Johnson is the creator of an ultra new dance tempo which he has copyrighted under the name of "Walk 'em Rhythm"—the tagline that identifies his rising young orchestra.

"The basic format of 'Walk 'em Rhythm,'" explains Buddy, "is a tempo to which the dancers can easily swing. Furthermore, I believe it's the kind of tempo that makes dancing considerably easier to the beginner as well as to the dancer whose steps aren't too sharp."

Remember, all roads lead to the Sunset this Sunday, July 4. Come out and bring your friends and have the time of your life. Advance tickets are now on sale at The Indianapolis Recorder. For table reservations—Call HU. 3658.

Shown to the right is one of the country's most clever dancing teams—Flash Laurence and Bobby Campbell, known professionally as Slip and Slide. The boys are billed as "Those sensational show stoppers, dance stylers and pantomimists." The popular hoofers have toured the circuits, playing with some of the top names in show business and have appeared at the top nite spots and theaters throughout the nation. They sing, dance and do a style of comedy that places them at the top of the professional heap.

NEW YORK (ANP)—Frank Wilson, a veteran actor of stage and screen, last week was seen in an important role on the ABC TV Network. Wilson played Chapman, a loyal butler, in "Fearful Decision" on the U. S. Steel Hour.

Wilson made his first stage appearance in Harlem and his Broadway debut in 1924 in "All God's Chillun Got Wings." He subsequently appeared in "The Emperor Jones," as Lem; in "Porgy and Bess," as Porgy; "The Green Pastures," as Moses, and others.

Poopoo Louie

By RICARDO WEEKS, ANP

Poopoo Louie, Honey man, Lived on Sugar Hill. Poopoo had more money than Rockefeller's mill.

Poopoo used to play the girls, Treated them all fine. Everywhere he went they cried, "Poopoo, please be mine."

Poopoo used to spend his dough As if he made his own. Whenever he set up the bar, He made the pikers moan.

One day Poopoo met a doll, Name was Jessie Mae. Took one look at her and bling! Stole his heart away.

Poopoo gave her all the things That she asked him for. Even bought a Cadillac. Still she craved for more.

One night Poopoo got so mad, Told her he was through. Said she was too high for him, Though his love was true.

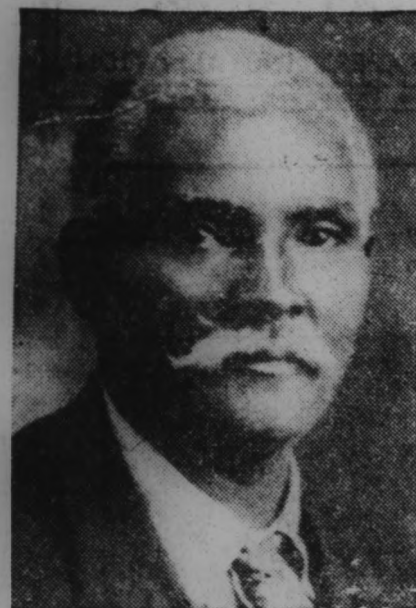

Poopoo told an awful lie, Cause if he loved her so, He never would have put her down, But would have spent some mo'.

In Memoriam

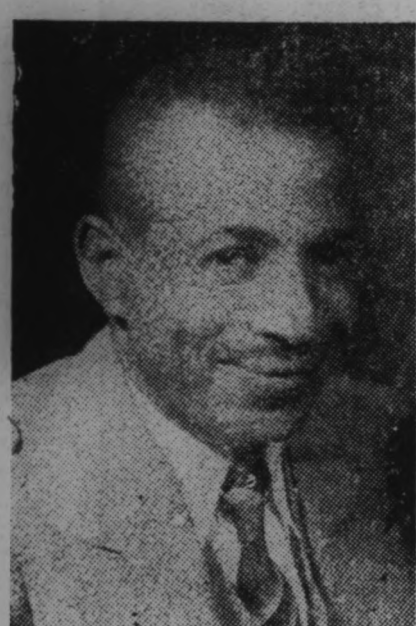

Card of Thanks

HOMER J. EVERETT
EVERETT—In loving memory of HOMER J. EVERETT who departed this life July 2, 1953. As long as hearts remember, As long as dear ones care We cannot lose the ones we love. They are with us everywhere.
Josephine Everett Garrett.

JAMES B. HORSLEY
HORSLEY—In loving memory of our husband and father, JAMES B. HORSLEY, who passed away June 30, 1950. It seems so long since we saw you. Yet the memory of you is so clear. The picture in our minds, darling father. Is the smile on your face so dear. Wife, Daughters and Sons.

ARCHIE HENSLEY
HENSLEY—In loving memory of my dear husband, ARCHIE HENSLEY, who passed away July 3, 1950. Gone but never forgotten. Sadly missed by Flora Hensley, Wife.

HEYWOOD—In loving memory of our loved one REV. HARRY L. HEYWOOD, who passed away six years ago in Chicago, Illinois, July 4, 1948. Like a ship that's left its moorings, And sails bravely out to sea. So someone Dear has sailed away, In calm serenity. But there's promise of greater joy Than Earth could have in store. For God has planned a richer life Beyond the Unseen Shore.
Charlotte Heywood Murray
Fredonia S. Temple.

FOX—In loving memory of our dear mother and sister MRS. MATTIE FOX, who passed away July 3, 1953. The world seems quite another place, Without the smile of mother's face And while she lies in peaceful sleep, Her memory we shall always keep.

Cassie Lilly
Carrie Kelly, Sisters
Elmer Thompson Brother.

WASHINGTON—In remembrance of my beloved wife, ISABEL WASHINGTON, who departed this life July 2, 1952. Remembrance is a golden chain, Death tries to break but all in vain; To have, to love and then to part Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart. The years may wipe out many things, But this they wipe out never—The memory of those golden days When we were together.

Bans Display Of Garvey's Statue

By WILBERT E. HEMMING
KINGSTON, Jamaica (ANP)—Police Commissioner Colonel Reginald Micholin has refused to allow artist Alvin Marriett to display on a sidewalk of Kingston a newly chiseled carving of the late Marcus Garvey.

Marriett worked on the bust of the late Garvey because he felt, he said, that Garvey was a great Negro.
Actually assigned by the city council of Kingston to work on the bust many years ago, he was told to drop it because the Jamaican politicians, except Kenneth Hill, did not want to honor Garvey.
Hill now MHR for Western Kingston, then mayor, had moved a resolution in council that a statue of Garvey should be built in one of Kingston's streets. At first his colleagues agreed, and a fund was opened in one of the commercial banks of Kingston. After three years, only about $50 was subscribed.
The Councilors asked the central government which Bustamant heads to give a grant-in-aid for building the statue. The government replied that it would give only a portion if the public gave generously.

The public did not give generously. Later on, Councilor Roy Woodham moved another resolution that former hospital manager and bigot Dr. Bowerbank's statue should be knocked down and Garvey's statue built instead, because Bowerbank had been opposed to the liberation of the colored people of Jamaica during the 17th century.

THE GOVERNMENT said it would not allow Bowerbank's image to be destroyed, because it was built from public subscription of the "plantocracy."
So Garvey's statue could not be built. Recently, artist Marriett decided to finish the bust which he would send to London to be done in bronze. He wanted to give a sidewalk display of it, so as to ask for public donations to ship it to London. The police commissioner said no.

Cite GI Benefits On 10th Anniversary

WASHINGTON, D. C. (ANP)—The Veterans Administration last week released figures showing benefits administered by the agency to some 20,000,000 veterans and their dependents under Public Law 346, 78th Congress, commonly known as the GI Bill of Rights.
The figures, released June 22, the 10th anniversary of the GI Bill, outlined the three major benefits administered under the law.
Of the three, education and training, GI loans and readjustment allowances, only the loan benefit is still in full force.
Readjustment allowances for unemployment, better known to veterans as the famous 52-20 club benefit, expired July 25, 1949. Education and training with its attendant subsistence allowance, expired for most veterans except for some who entered training before July 25, 1951, its cut-off date.

12,000 Attend Record Breaking Bapt. Congress

By RICHARD A. JACKSON

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (ANP)—Dr. William H. Jernagin and his entourage, president of the National Baptist Convention of the U. S. A., to head the National Sunday School and Baptist Training Union Congress. The 84-year-old religious leader, thus, will serve his 29th year as president of the Baptist organization. He was retained by

1. Stricter enforcement of national, local and state agencies against the drug traffic.
2. Endorsement of the ecumenical movement and the support of the American Bible Society and the National Fraternal Council of Churches.
3. The creation of a manuscript review committee to recommend for publication such material that may be submitted that can be used in Christian education.

4. Arranging the registration and financial committee of the congress so as to expedite time in registering the thousands.

THE ADOPTION of the resolution calling for a thanksgiving pilgrimage won the support of the National Fraternal Council of Churches, U. S. A., Inc., an organization of some 8,000,000 church people.

Dr. Jernagin, chairman of the executive board of the council, stated that the pilgrimage will offer prayers and thanks for the response to the welcome address, court ruling. At the same time, Rev. M. L. King of Atlanta delivered a blast against racial bias in the Negro since 1863 will be celebrated. The election of Dr. Jernagin group which considers the court ruling another emancipation proclamation.)

Subjects taught under the new skill shop course included leathercraft, flannel craft, construction, use of discarded material and drawing, lettering, painting, printing and modeling experience.

THE SKILL SHOP was developed from a syllabus by Zaid D. Lenier, supervisor of the fine arts department, and Mrs. Julia Davis, director and teacher, both of St. Louis. Teachers were Jessie Cook, Grace Center and Dorthea Scott, St. Louis, and Flora Green, Cleveland.

In response to mayor Morgan's offering of the key to the city, Rev. King said, "Yes, but just how far can we go with that key? How many doors will it unlock?"

Rev. King, it was learned, had stopped earlier at a local drug store where he was told, "We don't serve n . . . rs here."

This year's meeting surpassed the previous 48 in attendance with more than 12,000 turning out.

Mrs. Pearl Porter

Services for Mrs. Pearl Lee Porter, 44, 918 Indiana who died in General hospital June 23, were held June 27 at Greater Zion Baptist Church with the Stuart Mortuary conducting and burial in V. nvennes, her native home. She was a member of Greater Zion Church.

Surviving are the husband Roger Porter; two daughters, Miss Rosie Lee Porter and Mrs. Frances Schumpert, both of Indianapolis and two grandchildren.

RUTHE CAMPANELLA is the lovely wife of Roy Campanella, the Brooklyn Dodgers' great catcher. They live in St. Albans, Long Island, New York, where Mrs. Campanella keeps busy bringing up their large family.

What makes a Lucky
taste better?

"IT'S TOASTED"
to taste better!

"Roy was the first to smoke Luckies," says Ruthe Campanella, wife of the famous Dodger catcher. "Then I tried them and liked them, too. They taste so much better." Luckies taste better for good reasons. Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then that tobacco is toasted to taste better. "It's Toasted"—the famous Lucky Strike process—brings Luckies' fine tobacco to its peak of flavor . . . tones up this light, mild, good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better—cleaner, fresher, smoother. That's our story, pure and simple: a Lucky tastes better because it's the cigarette of fine tobacco . . . and "It's Toasted" to taste better. So, to get better taste—get Lucky Strike.

LUCKIES TASTE BETTER CLEANER, FRESHER, SMOOTHER!
